Spotlight

As the security threat posed by drones continued to escalate, the Border Security Force (BSF) reported the seizure of 134 drones used for smuggling operations and the confiscation of 164 kilograms of Heroin as of July 31, 2024, across the Punjab sector, since January 1, 2024. In addition, 46 smugglers have been arrested. In response to heightened infiltration attempts, the BSF neutralized one Pakistani intruder and apprehended another 24 individuals. Of these, 12 were handed over to the Punjab Police for further investigation, while the remaining 12 were returned to the Pakistan Rangers.

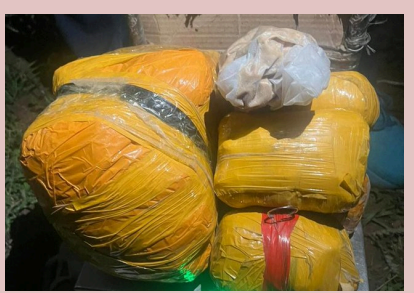

In August 2024, security forces intensified their targeted operations against the expanding organized crime syndicates, successfully disrupting multiple gangster-terrorism and drug-smuggling networks across the state. Data from the Khalistan Extremism Monitor (KEM) indicates that 31 individuals were apprehended in Punjab for their involvement with Khalistani terrorist organizations or organized criminal groups, while 144 individuals were detained in connection with drug-related offenses during the month. Furthermore, in August, security forces intercepted and confiscated one drone being utilized to smuggle arms and narcotics across the Pakistan-India border in Punjab.

The month in review

Amid ongoing internal Panthic political dynamics in Punjab, pro-Khalistan elements abroad intensified their anti-India activities around India's Independence Day (August 15), while Indian security forces successfully apprehended key Khalistani terrorists during the month of August.

On August 22, 2024, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), successfully facilitated the extradition of Ramanjit Singh aka Romi, the alleged mastermind behind the 2016 Nabha jailbreak, from Hong Kong. Following the issuance of a Red Corner Notice (RCN) by the Punjab Police through Interpol, Ramanjit Singh's extradition was executed in coordination with the CBI's Global Operations Centre, the Punjab Police, and Interpol's National Central Bureau in Hong Kong, after his location was identified in 2018. Ramanjit Singh is reportedly linked to Pakistan's Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) and the Khalistan Liberation Force (KLF), and is considered a principal conspirator in the Nabha jailbreak, which resulted in the escape of six high-profile criminals, including two terrorists.

On August 23, 2024, Ramanjit Singh, was remanded to two weeks of judicial custody by a duty magistrate in Patiala district. According to his legal counsel, the extradition was granted on the basis of an agreement stipulating that the police would refrain from interrogating him, to which Singh consented, agreeing to stand trial without undergoing interrogation. The counsel further noted that the duty magistrate carefully examined the relevant extradition treaty documents, leading to the decision to place Singh in judicial, rather than police, custody.

Earlier, on August 9, 2024, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) achieved a significant breakthrough by securing the extradition of Tarsem Singh, brother of Khalistani gangster-terrorist Lakhbir Singh Sandhu aka Landa. Tarsem Singh, a prominent pro-Khalistan element affiliated with the Khalistani group, Babbar Khalsa International (BKI), was extradited from Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates (UAE), to New Delhi. The extradition process was facilitated through the collaboration of the CBI, the NIA, and Interpol. Singh is implicated in the conspiracy to execute the rocket-propelled grenade (RPG) attacks on the Punjab Police Intelligence Headquarters on May 9, 2022, and the Sarhali Police Station in Tarn Taran on December 9, 2022, in addition to being involved in financing terrorist activities. An Interpol Red Corner Notice and a non-bailable warrant from an NIA special court were issued for his arrest. Singh has also been named in multiple NIA chargesheets for allegedly maintaining connections with drug traffickers and Khalistani operatives in Pakistan and other international locations.

In another significant development, on August 10, 2024, the Punjab Police, in collaboration with central agencies, arrested Simranjot Singh Sandhu, an international drug trafficker and the principal orchestrator of the 487 kg cocaine smuggling case in Germany in 2020, from Bhaloor village in Moga district, Punjab. Sandhu is believed to have played a key role in orchestrating drug trafficking networks spanning India, Europe, and South America, facilitating the smuggling of substantial quantities of cocaine, marijuana, and hashish. After being convicted in Germany in 2022, he absconded to Dubai before returning to India, evading capture in several locations, including Amritsar, Chandigarh, and Rajasthan.

Amidst discussions about the leadership vacuum within Akali politics in Punjab, hardline Sikh organizations intensified their pro-Khalistan activities around the Independence Day celebrations. Dal Khalsa, along with the Shiromani Akali Dal-Amritsar (SAD-A), organised a 'Freedom March' on August 13 in Hoshiarpur, and on August 15 in Tarn Taran, commemorating slain Khalistani terrorist Hardeep Singh Nijjar and Dal Khalsa founder Gajinder Singh Khalsa, in protest against the central government's alleged injustices towards Sikhs.

Despite pro-Khalistan elements in the Diaspora engaging in extensive digital campaigns to promote their 'Khalistan Referendum' activities on social media, reports suggest a noticeable decline in pro-Khalistan protests in Western nations, including the United States (US), Canada, and the United Kingdom (UK). Demonstrations that previously garnered significant participation now record reduced turnout, while anti-Khalistan and pro-India demonstrations have emerged in parallel at many of these locations.

On August 15, 2024, India's Independence Day celebrations in the Strawberry Hill area of Surrey, British Columbia, Canada, were disrupted by counter-protests from pro-Khalistan groups. A confrontation ensued between pro-Khalistan activists and Indian supporters, resulting in a clash that necessitated police intervention. Despite the heightened tensions, law enforcement successfully dispersed the crowds without any reported injuries or arrests.

Again, on August 18, 2024, pro-Khalistan elements disrupted the 'India Day Parade' at Nathan Phillips Square in Toronto, organized by Panorama India and co-hosted by the Indian Consulate at Toronto. The event, which attracted a large number of visitors and featured the largest Indian flag outside of India, was marred by Khalistani extremists who engaged in a 'Face-off' between 'Khalistan Sikhs' and 'Canadian Hindus', escalating tensions. A viral video captured the disruption, showing Khalistani extremists shouting 'Go back to India' at parade participants.

Meanwhile, recent reports indicate that two pro-Khalistan figures in the West were attacked by unidentified individuals. On August 10, 2024, the residence of Raghbir Nijjar, former president of the Guru Nanak Sikh Gurdwara and a close associate of the deceased Khalistani militant Hardeep Singh Nijjar, was targeted in a shooting incident in Surrey, British Columbia, Canada.

On August 11, 2024, Satinder Pal Singh aka Raju, a close aide of the deceased Hardeep Singh Nijjar, was attacked while driving on Interstate 505 in California, United States. According to the Khalistani group, Sikhs For Justice (SFJ), Raju survived an ambush when the truck he was traveling in was sprayed with bullets.

On August 8, 2024, Khalistani terrorist and SFJ chief Gurpatwant Singh Pannun issued a video threatening Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, demanding he should refrain from hoisting the Indian flag on August 15 Independence Day. Pannun offered USD 500,000 to anyone preventing Mann from doing so and vowed to incite violence at Indian embassies globally – from Vancouver and Washington DC to Melbourne. He urged supporters to burn the tricolour, claiming Punjab is not part of India and August 15 holds no significance for Sikhs or Punjab.

"No one in Punjab wants Khalistan", says rebel SAD leader Gurpartap Singh Wadala

Gurpartap Singh Wadala, convener of the rebel Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) group, dismissed concerns about the return of terrorism in an interview with The Tribune, stating that there is no demand for Khalistan in Punjab. He attributed the recent victory of condemned radical Khalistani preacher and jailed Member of Parliament (MP) Amritpal Singh to a leadership vacuum in the state. Wadala criticized the current SAD leadership for not addressing Punjab's issues and suggested that while the slogan of Khalistan may resonate with some Sikhs abroad, it does not reflect the broader sentiment in Punjab. He also condemned Amritpal's actions at the Ajnala Police Station but acknowledged his efforts against drug abuse

Is 'Ice' becoming the new 'chitta'? Hit hard by Taliban's opium ban, Punjab is breaking bad

The emergence of the drug 'Ice' (methamphetamine) signals a significant shift in Punjab's drug market, highlighted by the recent arrest of Harpreet Singh, elder brother of radical Khalistani preacher and jailed Member of Parliament (MP) Amritpal Singh, for allegedly possessing and consuming crystal methamphetamine. The rise in Ice usage is linked to a decline in Heroin supplies following the Taliban's ban on opium cultivation in Afghanistan. Punjab Police have reported a dramatic increase in Ice seizures, from 0.54 kg in 2023 to 16.9 kg in 2024, while Heroin recoveries have decreased. This trend is raising concerns among de-addiction specialists about its potential impact on addiction patterns and public health.

"Balkanise India, attack Indian embassies worldwide, receive money to stop hoisting of Indian flag on August 15," threatens Gurpatwant Singh Pannun

Khalistani extremist and chief of the banned Sikhs For Justice (SFJ), Gurpatwant Singh Pannun, recently released a video in which he threatened Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, demanding that he should not hoist the Indian flag on Independence Day (August 15). Pannun also offered a reward of USD 500,000 to anyone who prevents Mann from raising the tricolour, and condemned Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi. He vowed to incite violence against Indian embassies worldwide – from Vancouver and Washington DC to Melbourne – and urged supporters to burn the tricolour as a symbolic act against Indian rule and in support of Khalistan. He also stated that Punjab was not part of India and claimed that August 15 was not a day of independence for Sikhs or Punjab.

NIA extradites most wanted Pro-Khalistan Element, Tarsem Singh from Abu Dhabi

On August 9, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) successfully extradited Tarsem Singh, the brother of Khalistani terrorist Lakhbir Singh Sandhu aka Landa and a key Pro-Khalistan Element (PKE) associated with the Khalistani terrorist outfit, Babbar Khalsa International (BKI), from Abu Dhabi in the United Arab Emirates (UAE), to New Delhi. The Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), in coordination with the NIA and Interpol, facilitated the return. Singh, wanted for his involvement in rocket-propelled grenade (RPG) attacks and terrorist funding, had an Interpol Red Notice issued against him. He is linked to major terrorist networks and faces charges related to smuggling, narcotics trafficking, and funding terrorist activities in India. Singh's extradition is a significant development in the ongoing efforts to tackle terrorism and organized crime linked to the Khalistan movements.

Supreme Court rejects plea against election of Amritpal Singh as Lok Sabha MP

On August 9, the Supreme Court (SC) dismissed a plea challenging the election of jailed radical Khalistani preacher Amritpal Singh as a Member of Parliament (MP) from Khadoor Sahib in Punjab. The petitioner argued that Amritpal Singh, who had stated he did not owe allegiance to the Constitution of India, was not qualified to be an MP under Article 84 of the Constitution. The Court advised the petitioner to pursue an election petition and noted that Singh's eligibility was subject to procedural and evidential considerations.

Do not install Panjwar's portrait at Central Sikh Museum: Sikh leaders to Akal Takht Jathedar

On August 26, a group of former leaders of the All India Sikh Students Federation (AISSF) sent a letter urging Akal Takht Jathedar Giani Raghbir Singh to withdraw his instructions to install Parmjit Panjwar's portrait at the Central Sikh Museum in Amritsar. They argued that displaying a portrait of Panjwar, a designated terrorist and chief of the Khalistani terrorist Khalistan Commando Force (KCF), would promote violence within the Sikh community, citing Panjwar's role in fratricidal bloodshed and in orchestrating the killings of Panthic leaders. The letter requested that the Jathedar reconsider his directive.
