NEWSLETTER

Spotlight

Punjab Director General of Police (DGP) Gaurav Yadav announced, on October 30, 2024, in Chandigarh, that the Punjab Police had arrested 10,524 drug smugglers, including 153 high-profile offenders, and registered 7,686 First Information Reports (FIRs) in the first ten months of 2024. Enforcement agencies seized 790 kg of heroin, 860 kg of opium, 367 quintals of poppy husk, 93 kg of charas, 724 kg of Ganja (Marijuana), 19 kg of ICE, and 2.90 crore units of pharmaceutical opioids in tablet or injectable form. Additionally, the Border Security Force (BSF) recovered 181 drones along the Punjab stretch of the India-Pakistan border, a significant rise from 107 drones seized in 2023.

The Punjab Police intensified efforts to counteract the expanding nexus between organized crime, terrorism, and drug trafficking, dismantling several networks across the state in October. Data compiled by the Khalistan Extremism Monitor (KEM) indicates 100 individuals linked to Khalistani terrorist organizations or criminal gangs were apprehended, and 56 arrested for drug-related offenses. Authorities also intercepted and seized 15 drones, reportedly used for the cross-border smuggling of arms and narcotics along the Pakistan-India border in Punjab.

The month in review

The ongoing diplomatic tensions between India and Canada escalated further in October, with reports of pro-Khalistan activities and transnational criminal gang operations surfacing both within India and in several Western countries.

The deteriorating Indo-Canadian relationship has entered a new phase, marked by diplomatic censure and international warnings from both sides, culminating in the mutual expulsion of diplomats from each country. In a major development on October 14, 2024, Canada expelled six Indian diplomats, including High Commissioner Sanjay Kumar Verma, alleging their involvement in the murder of Khalistani terrorist Hardeep Singh Nijjar and accusing India of targeting dissidents within the South Asian community in Canada. India, however, stated that it had withdrawn the diplomats, including the High Commissioner, citing safety concerns after the diplomats were named as "persons of interest" in the Nijjar investigations.

In response, just hours after Canada's expulsion of the Indian diplomats, the Indian government ordered the expulsion of six Canadian diplomats, including Acting High Commissioner Stewart Ross Wheeler, giving them until October 19, 2024 to depart the country.

On October 14, 2024, India's Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) issued a formal statement accusing the Canadian High Commission of advancing the political objectives of the Trudeau administration and reaffirming India's sovereign right to respond to Canada's allegations implicating Indian diplomats in the death of Khalistani terrorist Hardeep Singh Nijjar. The MEA defended High Commissioner Sanjay Kumar Verma, dismissing Canada's accusations as "ludicrous" and criticizing Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's longstanding adversarial stance toward India, referencing incidents from his 2018 visit. Additionally, the MEA condemned Canada's lack of action on extradition requests for individuals associated with terrorism, expressing serious concerns over Canada's approach to India's national security.

Emboldened by Canada's actions against India, the Khalistani group Sikhs For Justice (SFJ), banned in India, issued a new threat against India's High Commissioner to Canada, Sanjay Kumar Verma, by releasing a video depicting him being shot with multiple bullet wounds. Additionally, SFJ announced a USD 500,000 bounty to track Verma, accusing him of involvement in the killing of Khalistani terrorist Hardeep Singh Nijjar.

Gurpatwant Singh Pannun, the chief of SFJ, claimed in a television interview on October 16, 2024, that he had been in communication with the Canadian Prime Minister's Office (PMO) over the preceding two to three years.

Further intensifying diplomatic tensions between India and Canada, Canadian Deputy Foreign Affairs Minister David Morrison, in a statement to a parliamentary panel in Ottawa on October 29, 2024, acknowledged identifying Indian Union Home Minister (UHM) Amit Shah as allegedly involved in plots targeting Sikh separatists in Canada. Morrison revealed that his confirmation of Shah's involvement followed an inquiry by a Washington Post journalist, though he refrained from presenting further evidence to substantiate the claim.

Significantly, on October 16, 2024, Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, during testimony before a foreign interference inquiry in Ottawa, acknowledged that his government had no substantial evidence when it initially accused India of involvement in the Nijjar killing, and had, instead, relied on inconclusive intelligence.

Indian government sources have criticized Trudeau for publicly making accusations without presenting substantiated evidence. Moreover, despite India's formal request under the Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty, Canada has not yet provided Nijjar's death certificate. The National Investigation Agency (NIA) has indicated that the document is necessary to update court records in multiple cases involving Nijjar. Canada has, instead, sought an explanation for the request, further complicating the diplomatic exchange.

Meanwhile, an indictment unsealed on October 17, 2024, revealed that the United States (US) had formally charged Vikash Yadav, a former Indian intelligence officer, in connection with a foiled assassination plot targeting SFJ chief Gurpatwant Singh Pannun in New York City in 2023. Yadav is accused of orchestrating the plot from India and directing his associate, Nikhil Gupta, to hire a hitman for the murder. The indictment alleges Yadav's involvement in "murder-for-hire" and money laundering activities.

According to reports, Vikash Yadav, who was previously arrested in Delhi on charges of extortion and kidnapping following a local businessman's complaint, is currently absconding after being granted bail by an Indian court.

According to sources, pro-Khalistan elements operating in Canada and the United States have established "control rooms" to coordinate targeted killings and terrorist activities in states such as Punjab, Haryana, and Delhi. NIA investigations uncovered the existence of these centers, located in South America and Spain, which were specifically designed to evade Indian surveillance. Initially founded by criminal gangs led by individuals such as Lawrence Bishnoi and Goldy Brar, these control rooms subsequently forged alliances with pro-Khalistan groups.

Experts suggest that, unlike Canada, which overlooks the connections between Khalistani elements and organized crime due to political considerations and the belief that it does not pose a direct threat to security in Canada, the United States remains vigilant about this extremism, recognizing its potential threat to American law and order.

Meanwhile, although the Khalistani group 'Justice League India', via a Telegram post, claimed responsibility for the blast near the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) school in Rohini, North West Delhi, on October 21, 2024, the police investigation has not yet established any direct link to Khalistani elements. The explosion, which occurred on October 20, 2024, did not result in any casualties.

Further, after a member of the Lawrence Bishnoi gang allegedly claimed responsibility for the killing of former Maharashtra Minister Baba Siddique, who was shot dead in the night of October 12, 2024, Mumbai Police along with national agencies have escalated their actions against the gang. The NIA has drawn parallels between the operations of the Bishnoi gang and those of Dawood Ibrahim's D-Company, emphasizing the growing threat posed by the gang.

Disgraceful Act: Defacing Mahatma Gandhi's statue in Washington is an affront to peace

Khalistani extremists desecrated the statue of Mahatma Gandhi on October 1, draping it with Khalistan flags and Octarartist symbols in Washington, D.C., in the United States. According to reports, the silence from the US government regarding this incident is troubling, as it risks condoning hate and disrespect under the guise of free speech. This act not only disrespects Gandhi but also strains the strong diplomatic relationship between India and the US.

In anger at Canada minister's remarks, Pannun threatens to 'Balkanise' India

The chief of the banned Khalistani outfit Sikhs For Justice (SFJ), Gurpatwant Singh Pannun, once again threatened India's sovereignty in a recently released video. Pannun declared plans to fuel independence movements in Jammu & Kashmir (J&K), Assam, Manipur, and Nagaland, with the aim of 'Balkanising' India by 2047. He also urged China to reclaim Arunachal Pradesh and claimed that the SFJ would exploit Canadian and American laws to promote these separatist agendas. Pannun was reacting to Canada deputy minister for foreign affairs David Morrison's statement, "Canada's policy is very clear, that India's territorial integrity must be respected... There's one India, and that's been made very clear."
